2013-2014 Annual Report
Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation
Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation acknowledges our culture and the diversity of our unique heritage in the Far West Region of South Australia including those who have passed before us and those who are present today who carry the honour to protect and maintain our customs and cultural values as the Traditional Owners and custodians of this land.
Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation

Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation (formerly Tjutjunaku Worka Tjuta) was established to operate the Community Development Employment Program (CDEP) through the former Department of Aboriginal Affairs. From very humble beginnings, it grew to host 180 participants with an administration staff of six including activity supervisors.

With changes to government policies over the past 10 years, the organisation’s focus expanded to include a greater emphasis on training and work experience for employment as well as income generating activities to maximize community assets and improve status in the mainstream commercial environment.

Following the Annual General Meeting (AGM) in November 2011, it was agreed by members that Tjutjunaku Worka Tjuta (TWT) should become a corporate entity. The organisation transitioned from an incorporated organisation established under South Australia’s Associations Incorporation Act 1985 to an Aboriginal Corporation established under the Commonwealth’s Corporations (Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander) Act 2006. On 20 July 2012, TWT was registered as Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation (CAC).

Situated in the township of Ceduna, a coastal centre on South Australia’s far west coast, CAC’s regional geographical coverage extended in 2012 to encompass Yalata which is situated some 200kms west of Ceduna and Oak Valley which is approximately 380kms north-west of Yalata.

According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics 2011 census reports, 3,481 people live in the Ceduna (DC) (statistical local areas) of which 50.3% are male and 49.7% are female. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people make up 24.9% of the population of which 866 live in Ceduna.

Significant improvement in the status of Indigenous people in the area has been achieved through the provision of employment and training opportunities provided by CAC. Community members are employed in a wide range of vocations, including administration, painting, the arts, building, gardening, land management, , and labour hire projects.

A major part of CAC’s future activity is the development and establishment of economic ventures that lead to sustainable employment and training outcomes. The training component assists CAC to participate in the Remote Jobs and Communities Program (RJCP).

CAC is managed by a Board of six Aboriginal Directors who are elected annually, and in turn elect the officer bearers. The Board employs a Chief Executive Officer and staff to manage its day to day programs in line with the Strategic Operational Plan.

The organisation’s core objectives are to:

- Assist in the relief of poverty, sickness, destitution, helplessness, distress, suffering and misfortune among Aboriginal people in the Ceduna region.
- Engage with relevant stakeholders and service delivery providers to maximise positive training and employment outcomes for all Aboriginal people in the Ceduna region.
- Engage in partnerships and/or agreements with stakeholders to promote economic benefits for the organisation and its members.
- Support the Aboriginal residents of the Ceduna region in pursuing activities that strengthen and reinforce cultural, artistic, social and other well-being initiatives.
- Design and implement strategies that meet the needs of Aboriginal youth to achieve a better quality of life.
- Strengthen and support activities that build mutually respectful relationships between the Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal community.
- Provide opportunity for Aboriginal people in the Ceduna region to fully participate in all aspects of community life as enjoyed by the wider community.
- Operate and maintain a Gift Fund to be known as ‘Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation Gift Fund’ in accordance with the requirements of the Australian Taxation Office.

12th September 2014
Firstly, I would like to acknowledge and pay respect to the traditional custodians, both past and present, and the deep feelings of attachment and relationship of our people to country.

It is with great pleasure that I present to the Indigenous community of Ceduna the second Annual Report of the Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation (CAC) for the 2013-14 financial year.

Over the past 12 months, the Board and senior management have endured some challenging but rewarding moments and achievements, and I would like to thank them for their professionalism, dedication and success.

As a result of a review, the corporation made some key strategic decisions on a number of very important measures and its ongoing viability as a corporate entity. Senior employees assisted the corporation to strive towards achieving a number of key outcomes to retain CAC as a viable service delivery organisation for Aboriginal people in Ceduna and across the region.

To the staff who remain, I resolve that as part of my commitment I will continue to offer my service to the Aboriginal community of Ceduna and outlying areas to promote change and strengthen our community to progress the corporation towards changes in the way we do business.

During the course of the financial year, CAC administered a number of grants which were directed at various community programs. While the objectives for each program are different, they all aim to foster self-management and self-determination through positive engagement with members of Homelands communities and other entities which fall under the auspices of CAC. Programs such as CDEP succeeded in this area where meaningful employment and training opportunities for Aboriginal people were provided.

Recent changes to government policy around service delivery, employment and training has shifted the framework within which CAC operates. Many programs have now ceased or have had funding allocations reduced due to services being mainstreamed.

The cessation of CDEP is an example of the shift in government policy which had a significant impact on the operations of CAC. CDEP was replaced by RJCP and job seekers are now required to register with the successful Job Network Provider, Complete Personnel.

As the peak organisation for Aboriginal people in Ceduna, Koonibba and Homeland communities, CAC is now required to shift its focus to long-term measurable outcomes in line with state and Commonwealth service provisions.

This year placed many challenges on CAC as funding was either reduced or ceased and this requires innovative thinking about how we do business in the future.

As Aboriginal people across this region, we need to examine opportunities that will make our corporation viable where we can continue to deliver services efficiently and effectively to our people, in line with a commercially focused approach which is recognised and supported by government at a national and state level.
Board of Directors

Treasurer, Paul Haynes (Jnr)

Paul Haynes (Jnr) was born in Ceduna and attended the Ceduna Area School where he completed Year 12.

Following school, he undertook an apprenticeship with the Electricity Trust of South Australia (ETSA) as a trainee linesman. Upon completing his qualification, Paul was permanently employed as a linesman and has been at ETSA for approximately eight years.

In the role of Treasurer, Paul contributes to establishing and re-establishing the overall operating position of the corporation, particularly when funding is impacted or changed. His duties include identifying the need for reviews to assess whether the corporation is a viable entity.

These reviews are also important to establish the key issues facing Aboriginal Homelands and communities as well as what Aboriginal people must do to address the gap in unemployment amongst youth. Key issues include education, housing, and alcohol and substance misuse.

Owing to reduced funding for Aboriginal programs, Paul believes the community must look to other means of maintaining CAC as the representative body. Support is needed from community members in attending forums and standing for vacant Director positions as they arise. Despite the challenges only Aboriginal people as a united community can fix them, not government.

Vice Chairperson and Secretary, Simon Prideaux

Born in Adelaide, Simon Prideaux spent his youth between North Adelaide and his mother’s family’s country on the West Coast.

He moved to Denial Bay over 10 years ago and has enjoyed being closer to his extended family. Simon now has two young children who love growing up in the area and learning about their culture.

Simon was elected to the CAC Board of Directors in November 2013. His passion is to see Aboriginal organisations in the region thrive and reach their potential.

Owing to the loss of CAC’s primary funding, finding a new direction and looking for new opportunities has been a focus for Simon and other Board members. He believes there are a lot of skills and knowledge amongst the Aboriginal community in Ceduna, Koonibba and the Homelands which can be utilised to create diverse opportunities and adapt to changing government policy.

Simon is committed to assisting CAC create opportunities now and for future generations in land management, Aboriginal led education, leadership skills, and social issues management so the community does not get trapped in a cycle of substance misuse and the criminal system.

He is also keen to receive feedback from the broader community on what services they would like CAC to provide.

Director, Ms Joy Reid

Joy Reid was born in the township of Wudinna, South Australia, and has worked with the Board of Directors since the commencement of the 2013-14 financial year. She has assisted staff to develop sound internal policy processes including financial management.

For the past 3.5 years, Joy has also been working as a Family Support Worker for ‘Save the Children’, an intensive support playgroup providing services in Ceduna, Koonibba, Scotsdesco and Yalata. In this role, she has been recognised with the ‘Gladys Elphick Award’ for support and achievements in the local Aboriginal community and will receive this award in July 2014.

Joy has been involved on numerous committees in Ceduna to represent the interests of Aboriginal people and has seen constant changes in policy direction from numerous governments. She has also seen disunity within the community and believes it is now time to unite as one voice to build a future for children and, importantly, to strengthen the community’s position across the region.

Director, Oscar Richards

Oscar Richards was born at Koonibba Mission and has lived most of his life in this region. Elected to the CAC Board in 2012, he has found the experience of working alongside fellow Directors and staff both rewarding and challenging, particularly given this year’s funding changes.

With the introduction of the new RJCP program, Oscar has seen a dramatic decline in work activity programs at CAC and this has been of great concern. RJCP activities need to be developed on Homeland communities and Ceduna as a matter of urgency to avoid the cycles of poverty and substance misuse emerging as a result of boredom, no work opportunities, and the lack of engagement by agencies and other service providers.

Oscar believes an inclusive approach is required by all agencies to address the number of social problems confronting Aboriginal people in the region. Other critical issues are housing maintenance on Homelands, school attendance, health, and training. Community members need to support each other, to make one strong voice, so that government can hear the concerns and make changes to policies which result in a positive community impact.

He is in favour of utilising CACs assets, including land, houses and machinery to develop commercial undertakings which create meaningful training and employment opportunities for the unemployed.

Public Officer, Mr Corey McLennan

Corey McLennan is the Chief Executive Officer of the Koonibba Community Aboriginal Corporation and was elected to the CAC Board at the 2012 Annual General Meeting.

His focus this year has been on the review of CACs financial position and operational structure including staffing requirements and remuneration levels, overheads, assets, government funding currently held and the likelihood of continuation, internally generated funds, and whether the corporation could continue operating as a viable entity based on the findings.

The final Action Plan outlined strategic measures that the Board could take to ensure that cost overheads were reduced to which Board members contributed and continues to contribute their own recommendations.

He believes that although the changes implemented at CAC during the year were significant and challenging, they will result in improved service delivery arrangements at the ground level. The corporation now has a long-term sustainability focus which will be of more benefit to the Aboriginal community than a short-term focus dictated by government funding.

In addition to the review work, Corey has also ensured that the operational requirements of the corporation we’re met during the year.

Director, Ms Joy Reid

Joy Reid was born in the township of Wudinna, South Australia, and has worked with the Board of Directors since the commencement of the 2013-14 financial year. She has assisted staff to develop sound internal policy processes including financial management.

For the past 3.5 years, Joy has also been working as a Family Support Worker for ‘Save the Children’, an intensive support playgroup providing services in Ceduna, Koonibba, Scotsdesco and Yalata. In this role, she has been recognised with the ‘Gladys Elphick Award’ for support and achievements in the local Aboriginal community and will receive this award in July 2014.

Joy has been involved on numerous committees in Ceduna to represent the interests of Aboriginal people and has seen constant changes in policy direction from numerous governments. She has also seen disunity within the community and believes it is now time to unite as one voice to build a future for children and, importantly, to strengthen the community’s position across the region.

On 30 August 2013, CDEP officially ceased as a government funded program and all participants are now required to register as a Job Seeker through Complete Personnel, the successful Job Network provider. All Aboriginal and non-Aboriginal job seekers in the Far West Region must comply with these new employment registration requirements in order to be referred to an approved work activity site. Clearly the governments focus has shifted from social programs to service provision based on measurable longer term outcomes aligned to economic and investment development opportunities.

With the changes in government policy around service delivery and the framework in which CAC has previously operated, we now have to consider how best to respond to what are clearly significant and continuing changes in policy frameworks on service delivery and government funded programs.

CAC continues to be recognised as a key Aboriginal service provider in Ceduna for Aboriginal people, however, we must now re-invent our thinking to develop the resources and skills required to ensure that real jobs, sustainable employment, training, and opportunities are explored and developed.

In addition, commercial and business development outcomes have become a prime focus for the Board to secure a future for Aboriginal people, particularly our youth as part of our service with excellence.

In further developments, the ‘Breaking the Cycle of Alcohol and Drug Addiction in Indigenous Communities program funding for CAC will cease as of 5 September 2014.

Moving forward, CAC has renewed its partnership agreement with Eyre Peninsula Natural Resource Management (EPNRM) on rehabilitation and conservation work in the Wild Eyre Revegetation and Chain of Bays projects.

CAC will continue to explore other avenues of income generating activities to support the ongoing operational expenditure of the corporation. Without this source of income, the corporation would not be in a viable position to maintain existing overheads associated with assets held.

This year has seen CAC reach a turning point in its history and I wish to thank the Board and staff for assisting the organisation to meet current and future challenges. To those staff we were forced to make redundant, I thank you for your contribution to CAC and sincerely hope that you find meaningful employment in an area that satisfies your passions.

I look forward to next year when we will further consolidate our new direction.

Michael Haynes, Chief Executive Officer
Road Repairs

Funding was received this year to grade internal roads twice yearly. Allan Haynes, a qualified Grader Operator was engaged to grade the roads. Two Homelands were also provided with appropriate road signage which was located at strategic points within the communities. The work was scheduled for completion in July 2014.

Dog Health

The Port Lincoln Veterinary Service is engaged twice yearly in communities to improve the health of community dogs. Regular treatment services are offered to de-sex, cull and vaccinate dogs. Throughout the year, a few Homelands had problems with dogs trespassing on neighbouring properties and destroying livestock. These dogs were put down.

The communities assisted a number of animals on Homeland as follows:
- Yarilena - 11 Dogs, 3 Cats
- Dinahline - 13 Dogs, Nil Cats
- Warevilla - 8 Dogs, 5 Cats

Fire Prevention

The objective of this funding is to have a clear path for the prevention of fire and reduced community risk to losing key assets. All fire breaks have been completed around and behind houses, and also around the boundary of farm lands. This service was completed in June 2014.

Yarilena Sewage

Municipal Services maintains weed control around the sewerage ponds and also administers chemical supplies at site, monitors pumps and ensures pump failures do not occur. Regular inspections are carried out on site to ensure that this service is operating effectively.

Ceduna Arts and Culture Centre

The Arts and Culture Centre supports the operations of Indigenous Art Centres and related industry organisations with the aim of building a stronger Indigenous Visual Arts Industry; and also promotes employment of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people in positions supporting the delivery of Australian Government arts and culture programs.

The program is funded by the Department of Regional Australia, Local Government, Arts and Sport and is implemented by Coordinator Pam Diment along with Jobs Creation Workers Kristen Bobyk, Samara Swan, Kelly Taylor, Beaver Lennon, and Collette Gray.

The centre has three competent administration staff who collate authenticity certificates, and undertake the stocktake, banking, invoicing, and promotion.

In the first three months of 2014, the centre was inspected for asbestos and staff were temporarily relocated to CAC. On 20 February, an asbestos registrar was established, and repairs and tests were undertaken until 22 March. At this time, the centre resumed operations, however a month of trade had been lost and the target set by the funding body for retail sales could not be reached.
Marshall Arts Gallery

A three artist exhibition featured the work of Beaver Lennon and Peter Bertani from the centre. Three of Beaver’s artworks were sold with one being gifted to the Queensland Art Gallery/Gallery of Modern Art. Beaver is now planning a solo exhibition with Marshall Arts in July-August 2014. This exhibition will be online and aimed at private collections which are currently very interested in his work. Beaver Lennon and Peter Bertani also exhibited artworks at the Marshall Arts ‘Returning and Connecting’ exhibition. There Beaver sold all of his artworks and was selected to participate in the Western Australian Indigenous Art Prize.

Far West Languages Centre

The Far West Languages Centre is funded by the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, Office for the Arts to:

• Support the maintenance of Indigenous languages
• Increase the use of Indigenous languages in a range of fields and media, including greater Indigenous community engagement
• Increase public appreciation of Indigenous languages
• Support the sustainable development of organisations working to support Indigenous languages

Over the past year, the centre focused on building capacity through training community people who are interested in learning language and teaching the language learning program to community members. It is important to keep the language localised so it is in the centre’s best interest to keep local people focused on learning language and teaching so that the rest of the community benefit and reap the rewards. Equally important is teaching language in schools, however, this will prove difficult unless there are enough community people qualified in how to speak, read, write, teach and deliver language in a classroom situation.

Another main focus of the centre is to have multilingual children with an understanding of and knowledge about the differences between the languages of the region and beyond so they know the heritage of each word they speak on a day-to-day basis.

The centre would like to acknowledge MLT Adelaide University which has provided support from commencement and will continue to do so. Others who assisted over the last 12 months, included Leonard Miller, Dr Paul Monaghan, Professor Mühlhäuser, Karina Lester, the MLT Advisory Committee, Guy Tunstall, and many more.

Coordinator: Estelle Miller
Youth Hub

In 2011, CAC was awarded a $300,000 grant from FaHCSIA to establish a central Youth Hub facility to provide a coordinated service response for the youth of the Ceduna community. The hub provides a central point to facilitate a two way engagement process between young people and service providers to run, in partnership with other organisations, recreation and engagement activities, education and training opportunities, job readiness skills, and support and referral regarding health and wellbeing.

Now funded by the Department of the Prime Minister and Cabinet, Indigenous Capability and Development (ICAD) Program - Breaking the Cycle of Alcohol and Substance Misuse in Indigenous Communities, the hub promotes the objectives of the Indigenous Advancement Strategy and the Culture and Capability Program with the aim of increasing school attendance. The main objectives are to:

- Provide positive diversionary program opportunities as well as referrals to services as required for young people at risk of alcohol and substance abuse and related self-harm and violence.
- Work with local service stakeholders to organise delivery of activities, services and education/awareness programs specifically targeting youth.
- Facilitate the delivery of targeted youth employment and training programs and activities.
- Identify potential youth leaders and provide leadership and development support in collaboration with local service providers.

To achieve these objectives, the hub runs a number of programs and activities, some in partnership with other stakeholders including:

- A Drop In Service
- RJCP Youth Corps Activity
- Literacy and Numeracy Program for disengaged students
- Weekly Gym Session
- School Holiday Programs
- Youth Diversion Programs
- Youth Outreach for services such as DASSA
- Linking young people into existing Leadership Training Programs
- Engaging motivational speakers and trainers
- Supporting community events such as Youth Week and NAIDOC Week

In 2013-14, the Ceduna Youth Hub recorded more than 6,000 participant contacts over all areas of programming and activities. This is based on repeat contact with approximately 150 youth aged 12-25.

A five-minute animated film clip, funded by Centacare and Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation, with funding through the Department of Minister and Cabinet, was developed and launched on 17 June 2014. The clip focuses on education, drugs and alcohol, parenting responsibilities, and supporting children. It was developed by the Wunan community and customised to relate to this region with English and Pitjantjatjara speakers Wayne Miller Jnr and Maureen Smart. The clip can be seen on Youtube at www.youtube.com/watch?v=pce3xrgmi7w (Wayne Miller version) and www.youtube.com/watch?v=kcpTQOnlrRI (Maureen Smart version).

Training and Employment

During 2013-14, CAC were provided with funding by the Department of Prime Minister and Cabinet under the Community Development Funding (CDF) program to deliver training at the Emu Farm in Natural Resource Management.

This training initiative was delivered in partnership with Eyre Peninsula Natural Resource Management (EPNRM) which had a focus on a number of key modules in compliance with the Department of Environment Water and Natural Resources (DEWNR) pre-work requirements. This process has enabled Aboriginal job seekers to access employment opportunities in the field of Land Management with EPNRM and also DEWNR.

Training was provided in the areas of:
• First Aid
• Chemical Handling
• Traffic Management
• 4x4 ATV
• Flora Bank-Seed Identification
• GPS Tracking
• Chainsaw Handling
• White Card-Occupational Health and Safety

Currently, CAC have 11 Aboriginal workers engaged in labour hire work with EPNRM and 35 Aboriginal job seekers registered with CAC for labour hire employment opportunities in land management.

Accredited training has also been offered to two Aboriginal Work Supervisors to undergo Vertebrate Pest Management training through TAFE SA in Adelaide. The training will be delivered at Calperum Station in the Riverland.

CAC aims to build on opportunities in the land management field by establishing a Seed Collection Hub at Emu Farm. The seed would be used to supply market demand, propagation of seedlings, rehabilitation and conservation work across the region. Significant employment outcomes could be achieved in this field for Aboriginal job seekers.

CAC will continue to explore new contracts in mining rehabilitation work as well as new partnerships with Parks and Wildlife, DEWNR and Alinytjara Wilurara Natural Resource Management (AWNRN) in the coming year.

Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation

Notes to and forming part of the Financial Statements

as at 30 June 2014

The financial statements cover Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation as a consolidated entity. Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation is a company incorporated under the Corporations (Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders) Act 2006.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - Reduced Disclosure Requirements of the Australian Accounting Standards Board (AASB) and the Corporations Incorporation Act. The corporation is a not-for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards. Australian Accounting Standards set out accounting policies that the AASB has concluded would result in financial statements containing relevant and reliable information about transactions, events and conditions to which they apply. Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless otherwise stated. The financial statements have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable, by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities.

The financial statements were authorised for issue on 24 October 2014 by the Directors of the corporation.

(a) Principles of consolidation

The consolidated financial statements incorporate the assets, liabilities and results of the entities controlled by Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation at the end of the reporting period. A controlled entity is any entity over which Ceduna Aboriginal Corporation has the power to govern the financial and operating policies so as to obtain benefits from its activities.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, all intragroup balances and transactions between entities in the consolidated group have been eliminated in full on consolidation.

(b) Income Tax

The corporation is exempt from income tax and is a deductible gift recipient as determined by the Australian Taxation Office.

(c) Property, Plant and Equipment

Each class of property, plant & equipment is carried at cost, or fair value less applicable depreciation.

Land and buildings

Land and buildings are measured at cost less impairment or Board valuation. Net revaluation increments in the carrying amounts of land and buildings are recognised directly in the asset revaluation reserve. Impairments are provided for as necessary and charged to expense.

Plant and equipment

Plant and equipment is measured on the cost basis and is therefore carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses. In the event the carrying amount of plant and equipment is greater than its estimated recoverable amount the carrying amount is written down immediately to its estimated recoverable amount. A formal assessment of recoverable amount is made when impairment indicators are present.

(d) Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the association’s obligation for short-term employee benefits. Short-term employee benefits are benefits (other than termination benefits) that are expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service, including wages, salaries and sick leave. Short-term employee benefits are measured at the undiscounted amounts expected to be paid when the obligation is settled.

The association’s obligations for short-term employee benefits such as wages, salaries and sick leave are recognised as a part of current trade and payables in the statement of financial position.

Other long-term employee benefits

The association classifies employees’ long service leave and annual leave entitlements as other long-term employee benefits, as they are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months after the end of the annual reporting period in which the employees render the related service. Provision is made for the association’s obligation for other long-term employee benefits, which is measured at the present value of the expected future payments to be made to employees. Expected future payments incorporate anticipated future wage and salary levels, duration of service and employee departures and are discounted at rates determined by reference to market yields at the end of the reporting period on government bonds that have maturity dates approximate to the terms of the obligations. Upon the re-measurement of obligations for other long-term employee benefits, the net change in the obligation is recognised in profit and loss as a part of employee benefit expense.

The association’s obligations for other long-term employee benefits are presented as non-current provisions in its statement of financial position, except where the association does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least 12 months after the reporting date, in which case the obligations are presented as current provisions.

Superannuation contributions are made by the Corporation and are charged as expenses when incurred.

Notes to and forming part of the Financial Statements

as at 30 June 2014

Note 1: Statement of Significant Accounting Policies, continued

(f) Cash and cash equivalents
Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, cash at bank and deposits at-call with banks.

(g) Revenue and other income
Revenue from Government grants and funding is recognised when it has been established that a right to receive exists.
Interest revenue is recognised on a proportional basis taking into account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets. All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and service tax (GST).

(h) Trade and Other Payables
Trade and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the Association during the reporting period, that remain unpaid. The balance is recognised with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability included as a current liability.

(i) Financial Instruments

Initial recognition and measurement
Financial assets and financial liabilities, are recognised when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the corporation commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset. Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value with transaction costs expensed where the instrument is classified as “at fair value through profit or loss” in which case transaction costs are expensed to profit or loss immediately.

Classification and subsequent measurement
Financial instruments are subsequently measured at either fair value or cost. Fair value represents the amount for which an asset could be exchanged or a liability settled, between knowledgeable, willing parties.

(i) Loans and receivables
Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

(ii) Financial liabilities
Non-derivative financial liabilities (excluding financial guarantees) are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Impairment
At the end of each reporting period, the corporation assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. Impairment losses are recognised in the statement of comprehensive income.

(j) Critical Accounting estimates and Judgements
The Board members evaluate estimates and judgements incorporated into the financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the corporation.
